

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 19.

Dako should be allowed to come into the Union or somewhere else that she may get away from the deadly blizzard.

The Lost Cause has received a sympathetic touch in the confirmation of Lamar. It is an endorsement of Jefferson Davis' ideas of state sovereignty.

The Chicago Tribune still harps away on the "naked facts about wool," claiming that a tariff does not protect wool. It is a tariff does not protect wool, why is the Tribune howling against the tariff?

The reports from Philadelphia say that the administration democrats, with Mr. Cleveland in the lead, will make Samuel J. Randall leave the party. When Mr. Randall is driven out of the democratic party a good many thousand democrats will go out with him.

"Tom Nichol," says an exchange, has been reported as near death's door, but he doesn't know it. He is still able to sit three miles a day and work seven hours out of the twenty-four. Tom Nichol, like Tom Ochiltree, proposes to live always. Will some one please inform the public what Tom Nichol does in the seventeen hours he is said to work? Where is the result of his long continued labor?

Modern recipe for making a justice of the United States supreme court: Congressional courtesy, 1 part. Gall, 3 parts. Riddleberger (all of him). Central Pacific influence, quantum suff. Mix.—Chicago Tribune.

But the Central Pacific railway influence was the thing that won for Lamar the judgeship. There was "millions to it" for Stanford and Stewart, and that is what they are after—the millions.

Recalling an old remark from Chairman Gorman, by the St. Louis Democrat: St. John says that the only reason for the continued existence of the democratic party is the fact that "having no soul, there would be no place for it to go in case it should die." This observation is worthy to rank with the celebrated remark of Senator Gorman to the effect that "it cost like hell to secure St. John's help in achieving the democratic national victory of 1884."

The statement of water pipe laid in Milwaukee during the last year shows a total length of 72,543 feet or 13,759 miles. The sizes of the pipes laid were: 24 inch, 137 feet; 20 inch, 3,333 feet; 16 inch, 8,007 feet; 12 inch, 2,207 feet; 8 inch, 12,576 feet; 6 inch, 46,238 feet. The total length of the pipe system of the water works now is 147,645 miles, or 779,554 feet, besides 578 feet wrought iron pipe and 3,070 feet flexible joint pipe. The length of the pipes in the different divisions is 175,145 feet on the east side, 373,943 feet on the west side, and 154,703 on the south side.

It seems to be likely that the republicans of most, if not all, of the states, will hold two conventions this year—one for the selection of delegates to the national convention, and another for the nomination of candidates for electors and state officers. Maine and Pennsylvania have decided upon that plan; and it is generally favored in other states where the subject has been discussed. The Globe-Democrat, mentioning these facts, commends the idea as a good one, not only in point of convenience, but also because it tends to make the choice of a national ticket entirely independent, as it should be, of all local alliances and entanglements.

George Kennan's third Russian prison paper will appear in the February Century, and is a description of the life of the "Politicals" in the famous fortress of Petropavlovsk. The interest of these papers is cumulative. In this forthcoming one Kennan will describe "The First Night in the Fortress," "Routine of Life in a Casemate," "How Prisoners are Watched and Guarded," "An Artificial Hiccough," "Prisoners' Methods of Intercommunication," etc. The first paper in the series describing Mr. Kennan's journey through Siberia, with Mr. Frost's illustrations, will begin in April. Copies of the Century now entering Russia have Mr. Kennan's articles torn out of them by government officials on the frontier.

The Rev. Father Donahue, the Catholic priest at Charleston, Ill., has just made a new discovery that is far superior to any that he has yet made. He calls it "Lafayette Quate" and in effect it resembles the Russian lettuce, the most effective explosive known to science. He claims that if anything it is superior and more deadly. It is put up in faces and is made from pine gum. Mr. Donahue has been appointed a lieutenant in the French army on account of his previous discovery, and now he has received a gold medal handsomely engraved from the Mexican government, who desire to secure his services. He claims that with his last discovery gunpowder can be made more cheaply and the new compound will be substituted for it in time.

ped, and, on seeing the boy, burst out laughing. The youthful knight-errant was young Sadi Carnot, who had accompanied his father, Napoleon's minister of war, to Malmaison.

The revision of the National Bank law, proposed by the comptroller of the currency in his annual report, has been introduced in the senate, containing provisions reducing the amount of bonds deposited by the banks, permitting national bank notes to be counted as a part of the cash receipts of the banks, and relieving them of the necessity of keeping a cash reserve against government deposits. A number of the provisions which experience seems to point out as desirable are of a restrictive nature. Among these are provisions imposing checks upon managers of national banks in respect to investments in real estate securities, providing penalties for making loans contrary to law, prohibiting such a constitution of the board of directors as would make officers of the bank a majority of the board, and adding to the oath which the directors are required to take an obligation to inform themselves at all times as to the condition of the bank's business. Bradstreet's regards the legislation proposed as eminently deserving of the attention of congress.

A Washington dispatch gives the following life like pen portrait of a well-known Wisconsin politician: "A wiry, cat-like little man walked across the Elmhurst lobby this morning. His square shoulders were bunched up under his ears and his arms were poised like those of a prize-fighter. His head was bent forward, and his brave left eye looked fiercely from under his brow. The other eye was a green patch, and his short gray whiskers bristled with fierceness. He walked with the soft, stealthy tread of a panther, but his whole air was that of the Bad Man from Bitter Creek, who could lick any blundered man in the town. He was dressed in black clothes, and a double-breasted frock hung upon his belligerent frame. The waders made way for him, and seamen stopped and shook hands. It was General Edward S. Bragg, the Wisconsin fighter, who had just been nominated Minister to Mexico. Bragg made his friendship with Cleveland at the Chicago convention, where he jumped up on the platform and announced, with a shake of his fist, that 'Cleveland's friends loved him for the enemies he had made.' He denounced John Kelly, hurled back Grady's words in his teeth, and made one of the great speeches of the convention."

The Catholic News, of New York, has an interesting article concerning the canonization of the first saint of the United States. It says that Archbishop Ryan, now in Rome, is engaged in gathering materials toward proving the sanctity of his predecessor in the see of Philadelphia, Bishop John John Nepomucene Neumann, who died in 1880. The miracle and wonders associated with the prelate and that form the basis of canonization, are connected with the bishop's tomb beneath the sanctuary of St. Peter's, Philadelphia. The body did not decay for ten months after burial. On August 25, 1868, Elizabeth O. Driscoll lost her voice. Physicians treated her without success. February 1, 1869, she received holy communion in St. Peter's, and while kneeling at the grave of the dead bishop she articulated his name and from that time her power of speech was wholly regained. Mary Hannekes, aged 13 years, after being treated six months by oculists, regained her sight after nine days' devotion at the tomb. To the prelate also has been ascribed the gift of prophecy. All these alleged miracles are to be made the basis for the petition to the holy see, praying that the late lamented American bishop be canonized as a saint. Bishop Neumann was a native of Prussia, Bohemia, and was born March 28, 1811. He came to America in 1839, was ordained in New York City by DuBois, served some time in Williamsburg and joined the Redemptorists in 1840. When Bishop Kendrick was appointed to Baltimore he was succeeded in the see of Philadelphia by Father Neumann.

Mr. Vanderbilt and the Sultan. Constantinople, Jan. 10.—During Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt's recent visit here the Sultan strongly urged him to construct a system of short line railways. Mr. Vanderbilt, pleased that his visit was merely for pleasure. The Sultan has now forwarded to Mr. Vanderbilt, who is in Egypt, all the papers bearing on the question, and he expresses the hope that Mr. Vanderbilt is at disposal to accept the task Mr. Jay Gould will undertake it.

Famine in Turkey. Boston, Jan. 10.—A dispatch has reached the rooms of the American Board of Foreign Missions from Maridin, in East Turkey, stating that 10,000 people are starving, and calling for immediate relief. It is also reported that the famine at Adana, in Central Turkey, still continues, and the number who are suffering increases daily.

Stimulating the Price of Starch. Cincinnati, Jan. 10.—The starch manufacturers of the Western States held a meeting here yesterday at which fifteen of the largest manufacturers were represented. The price of starch was advanced one-quarter of a cent a pound. How to regulate production and prices was a topic of discussion.

Another Crisis Imminent. Paris, Jan. 10.—The Paris says that Premier Tirard has rejected the budget committee's decision touching the taxation of the liquor traffic, and will make the acceptance of his proposals regarding the matter a Cabinet question. Several ministers oppose Tirard, and a crisis is imminent.

Short $10,000 in His Account. Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 10.—Frank M. Irwin, clerk and register of the city court, is short in his accounts fully $10,000. Irwin left here, ostensibly for Atlanta, two weeks ago, since which time he has not been heard of. Real estate speculation is supposed to have led him into this trouble.

Early Opening of Navigation Assured. Cumrogon, Mich., Jan. 10.—The ice in the straits is so weakened by the snow upon it that it will not bear teams with safety. Consequently crossing this winter over it is probably a failure. This, without doubt, insures an early opening of navigation.

A CHECK ON RANDALL.

[Special to the Gazette.] New York, Jan. 19th.—Eastern papers regard the selection of Kiser by the Pennsylvania state committee, as a severe check on Randall. He hoped to retain Sanders that he could use the committee against tariff reform, and prevent if possible the re-nomination of Cleveland.

RAILROAD CELEBRATION.

[Special to the Gazette.] BLANCHARDSVILLE, Wis., Jan. 19th.—There is a great railway celebration in progress here to-day over the arrival of the first train on the Freeport, Dodgeville and Northern railway, which arrived at noon. Every citizen in Blanchardsville is out participating in the celebration and great festivities. One of the main features of the celebration is a roasted ox, and the free distribution of edibles and "beverages." Speeches are being made by prominent railroad men in this section and by visitors and invited guests. It is a red-letter and gala day for the town. The road will winter here.

IOWA LEGISLATURE.

Formal Election of Senator Wilson—House Visiting Committee—No More Sessions Until January 21.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 19.—At noon yesterday the Iowa legislature met in joint convention to complete the vote for United States Senator, when Mr. Wilson was declared elected, and both houses adjourned to the 24th inst.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 19.—At noon yesterday the Iowa legislature met in joint convention to complete the vote for United States Senator, when Mr. Wilson was declared elected, and both houses adjourned to the 24th inst. Speaker Robinson announced the House Visiting Committee at the session yesterday. In the Senate yesterday the Railroad Committee reported adversely on the Hatch resolution, and asked that the Railroad Committee be empowered to send for persons and papers in investigating the railroads, which was granted. Senator Plim introduced a school-book bill providing for the appointment of a board of school-book commissioners, who may receive bids for books and may order books published by the State, the commission to be composed of the Executive Council and State Superintendent. A bill was introduced by Senator McGary to declare all railways public highways. Senator McGary introduced a bill providing for a board of supervision for State institutions. Senator Baylies introduced a bill providing for taking away from druggists the exclusive privilege of selling liquor for legitimate purposes.

THE RIVER CONVENTION.

Proceedings at Dubuque—Resolutions Adopted and Committees Named.

Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 19.—The Mississippi River convention concluded its labors yesterday forenoon. The resolutions declared that sufficient appropriations should be made for the improvement of the Mississippi river, and asked Congress to take prompt action during its present session. They endorse the work of the engineer corps now in charge on the upper river, and particularly approve the suggestions of Major Mackenzie that appropriations should be made sufficient to cover the work of a series of years, which would permit of more comprehensive plans and such systematic work as will show better results than can be obtained by annual appropriations. The attention of the engineer department is called to the fact that the Rock Island rapids are too narrow, too shallow and not navigable at night, and an investigation into the best method of remedying these defects is asked, either by an extension of the present system of improvements or by a lateral canal from Rapids City to Rock Island. An executive committee of ten was appointed to promote the demands of the convention. The committee is as follows: Iowa, James L. Stoen, Philip W. Cragg; Illinois, Charles E. Cox, Charles E. Deere; Wisconsin, John Paul, David Austin; Minnesota, J. W. Blakey, Sam Van Sant; Missouri, M. J. Murphy, George Bain.

MR. BARRY TALKS.

He Thinks the Reading Strikers Will Be Successful—Knights of Labor Prospects Bright.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Thomas B. Barry, of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor, reached Chicago yesterday from Philadelphia, where he has been laboring to organize the striking Reading railroad employees. Mr. Barry thinks the miners will be successful. He says they were justified in striking, and that the Executive Board endorses the position of the strikers. Mr. Barry was asked regarding the condition of affairs in the order of which he is so prominent a leader. He said: "The prospects of the order of the Knights of Labor are bright. The good work of the masses will prevail in the end. There is no danger of the Knights of Labor being down. The order is here to stay until its mission is accomplished."

THE STORM'S WORK.

Accounts of the Deaths of Additional Victims.

THE DEATHS NOW NUMBER 217.

The Truth May Not Be Known Until the Snow Melts Away in the Spring—A Cold Wave Coming—Losses of Cattle in Texas.

INCREASING THE DEATH LIST. St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—The summary of fatalities resulting from the storm, as prepared by the St. Paul Dispatch, brings the number of deaths up to 217.

It is thought that bodies of many people reported missing may not be found until the snow thaws in the spring, the bodies probably being covered by deep drifts. Specials received give the names of a number of additional victims. Two are reported from Canton, D. T.—a man and a child. The driver of the team found frozen west of Canton has not yet been discovered dead or alive.

A man named Tysland, aged 70, who lived near Brookings, was frozen to his wall Thursday to water his stock, was caught in the storm and perished. He was found only twelve feet from his house. Chamberlain, D. T., reports that Annie Anderson, daughter of Mr. W. C. Anderson, of Oto, froze to death while going to school Thursday morning. Her body has not yet been found. Chamberlain has had no train for eight days, and the merchants are running out of supplies.

The wife of Mr. Lunka was so badly frozen near Hutchinson, Minn., in Thursday's blizzard that she died in horrible agony. Miss Agnes Lunka, who narrowly escaped death in a storm last winter, was frozen to death in Hand County, D. T., while going from her school last Thursday. Aberdeen reports that the story that a school teacher and sixteen children were frozen about fifteen miles west of Aberdeen, absolutely false. The body of James Reed, a farmer living eight miles east of Huron, D. T., was found Wednesday.

The storm was severe about Santee agency in Nebraska and about Santee, D. T., and there was great damage to stock. J. Milligan, frozen at Leesville, D. T., died of his injuries. This makes three deaths in Hand County.

Atankton, N. M., Jan. 19.—The Atlantic & Pacific railroad is again blocked by snow. The indications are that stock of all kinds on the ranches along the line of this road have been seriously injured.

Huron, Mich., Jan. 19.—The last of five stock in Hill County from the recent blizzard is not less than 1,000 head. Chicago, Jan. 19.—A dispatch sent out from Washington at 1 a. m. to-day says: "A cold wave is indicated for Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin. The temperature will fall 15 to 20 degrees by Friday morning."

RANDALL BEATEN.

His Candidate for Chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic Committee Defeated—The Administration Counters.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—At yesterday's meeting of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Central Committee a test of strength occurred between the respective followers of Samuel J. Randall and W. L. Scott, the latter representing the interests of President Cleveland. Randall's man, Dallas Sanders, was defeated for chairman of the committee by Scott's SAMUEL J. RANDALL. Nominee, Elliott Kiser, by a vote of 42 to 33. A resolution was adopted strongly commending the Administration of President Cleveland, with especial approval of the President's policy regarding tariff reform and surplus reduction. May 23 was fixed as the date of the Democratic State convention.

THE GERMAN ARMY BILL.

It Will Add 700,000 Trained Men in Time of War—Anti-German Measures in the Baltic Provinces.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—The Reichstag committee has approved the Military bill after adopting an amendment to enable men entering the active army before their 20th year to leave the landwehr earlier. General von Schellendorf, Minister of War, said the measure would give the army in time of war an addition of nearly 700,000 trained men. The cost is estimated at $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.

The Russian Government has renewed anti-German measures in the Baltic provinces. Forty Lutheran clergymen in Livonia have been deprived of their benefices without notice because they used solely the German language.

Just Serve His Sentence at Last.

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 19.—Richard Cautone, who was convicted of manslaughter here in 1856 and sentenced to the penitentiary, escaping en route, was arrested yesterday near Massesville by Sheriff Bethel. He was convicted of killing William Hilde at Dresden, who interfered to prevent Cautone whipping his wife. He served in the war and is drawing a pension.

Disastrous Fire.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 19.—The Northern Pacific Terminal Company lost its round-house, machine shop and blacksmith shop at Astoria, Ore., by fire Wednesday. Lost $45,000; insurance, $25,000. The Oregon Railway & Navigation Company suffered a loss of $10,000 on locomotives in the fire; not insured.

St. Paul's Zoo Carnival.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—At a meeting held at the St. Paul Hotel last evening, the trustees of the St. Paul Zoological Association voted to hold a grand carnival, to take place on Tuesday evening, January 31.

—Gen. Sherman has written an article in the forthcoming Century on the "Grand Strategy of the War of the Rebellion." He demonstrates his belief that, in the main, the war was prosecuted on sound military principles. At the close, he remarks upon "his failure of most foreign military critics to understand the character of the war."

—W. J. Norton is a respectable-looking, gray-haired old man who peddles furniture polish and cultivates his appetite for the "rosy." He was hired to clean the piano in the first ward of eye-opener that he had on board, twenty minutes in a warm room proved too much for him, and he hurried the mistress of the house by falling fast asleep on the floor. Yesterday afternoon in company with Officer McGulley, he made his second appearance in court. He had been rescued from a two foot snow drift just in time to escape freezing to death and Judge Patterson decided to bind him with Sheriff Ward for five days to keep him out of trouble.

—Business men that think a newspaper's most important duty is to "boom the town" are numerous. "Look at the Kansas and Nebraska papers," they say, "these are the kind to have—they boom whether there is a chance for it or not." One thing is entirely forgotten. That is that whatever "booming" these Kansas and Nebraska papers do receives its full reward. The people of Tucson, by public subscription buy $5,000 copies of their local paper every month for the purpose of sending it abroad, and in addition pay $200 a month for the "write-ups" of their city. Lamar, Kansas, recently subscribed $2,000 for a write-up in the local press. The Monitor, of Fort Scott, Kansas, is paid $7,000 for talking up the advantages of that city. Hutchinson, Kansas, pays the News $10,000 for running a morning paper, and Newton subscribes $15,000 to have the Republican boom that place.

A FARMER'S FAMILY.

They appeared at the Baptist Church last night.

Seventeen maidens each overwhelmed by a pointed cap fully two feet high, set on the platform of the Baptist Sunday school room last evening. They were the well renowned Peak sisters and the leader, Mrs. O. B. Conrad, introduced them by reading the following biographical sketch:

"Ladies! Gentlemen, Ladies! Boys and Girls of both sexes:

"Before you now appear the famous Peak Sisters. We were originally twenty-two daughters—all girls—born in Pike's Peak; and it is an unsolved problem whether Pike's Peak was named after the Peak family or the Peak family for Pike's Peak. But there are reasons for supposing that Mr. Pike had established his Peak some years before Mr. Peak established his family. It is a lamentable fact that when we moved from that locality, so great in area, so high in altitude, and abundant in climate, that it became depopulated. When very young we immigrated and settled in Peaksville—named for us on account of our wonderful skill, which will soon be made apparent. Our mother, who was rather peculiar, named us in alphabetical order, each name ending in 'y.' Regardless of cost we engaged the services of Worth to prepare for us these pretty and quaint costumes adapted to our figures and to the name of Peak. We were born of rich but respectable parents, but one by one they have dimmed the golden stair and these twenty-six dear saplings were left at a tender age to the mercies of a cold world. We resolved to seek renown on the lyric stage. With varying success we have traveled the known world for our board, and to-night appear before the elite of the city. You will now be entertained by our soul-stirring and mind-consuming songs and recitations. No scores are expected and please omit flowers."

The programme was made up with an eye single to its powers in provoking mirth. It was a success beyond any manner of doubt. The audience, which completely filled the room, ran the scale from subdued giggles to shrieks of laughter, over and over again.

The names of those taking part were the same as published in last night's Gazette, except that at the close there was a vocal solo by Mr. E. O. Kimberly. We are pleased to state that the programme will be repeated on Friday evening.

A SHORT TALE.

Fought Under Queensbury Rules to a Finish.

NORTH JONSON, Ind., Jan. 19.—The long talked of fight to a finish, under Queensbury rules, for $1,000 a side and the gate money, amounting to $1,200 more, was fought in Burd's opera house last evening. The train from Streator which brought Myers and his friends here was two hours late, and then another two hours was wasted in selecting a referee, Frank Glover, the Illinois champion heavy-weight, being finally agreed upon.

Myers weighed 135 pounds, and was seconded by John Brennock and Link Pope. Glover tipped the beam at 130 and was looked after by William Bradburn and Professor Jim Connolly.

It was just twenty-two minutes after 3 o'clock when time was called for round first and last. Myers was the first to lead, but was short with both hands; getting away, however, without a return. A moment's sparring for an opening followed, when Myers again led with the left, the blow falling short. Bearing in, however, he caught Glover with a terrific right-hand on the point of the jaw, knocking him as flat as a flounder; and, being unable to come up at the end of time, Myers was awarded the fight, which lasted just one minute and forty seconds. The result was greeted with loud cheers by the partisans of Myers, who now think they have the champion of all light-weights down in Streator.

A CHANGE AT THE JAIL.

The Escape of Jack Hess Discussed by the County Board This Afternoon.

The District Attorney's Salary Raised to Fifteen Hundred Dollars.

The most important business considered by the county board to-day was that which concerned the administration of affairs at the jail. Jack Hess and his escape were thoroughly discussed, and Mr. Lee, of Evansville, offered the following resolution:

That the sheriff of this county be and is hereby requested to make a change in the turnkey employed at the county jail, such change being in the opinion of the board of supervisors for the benefit of the public in the administration of the affairs at the county jail.

Those opposing the resolution promptly voted for the ayes and noes. The vote resulted as follows, Mr. Nowlan being excused:

Ayes—Crosby, Carle, Dillenbeck, Fessenden, Gillies, Goodrich, Jones, James, Kimball, Lee, T. M. Lynch, Merrill, Mc Intyre, Moore, Nye, Sherman, Tarrant, Weaver, Zull and Gunn—20.

Noes—Bear, Jensen, Keeler, Kirkpatrick, Needham, Smith—6.

This morning seven hundred dollars were appropriated for the painting of the court house and jail for various other improvements.

The Janesville small pox bills were allowed after they had been reduced from $125 to $75.

Reports were received and adopted from committees, among them the committees on illegal taxes, charitable institutions, general appropriations and apportionment of jurors.

Ten dollars were voted to the chairman in payment for the signing of order.

On motion of Mr. Goodrich an order was passed fixing the district attorney's salary in future at $1,500 a year. The order also contained a proviso requiring the district attorney to have an office in this city where he might be found when not absent on official or other necessary business.

The salary of the county clerk for the ensuing year was fixed at $1,200 and that of the county treasurer at $1,000.

After transacting a few other items of unimportant business, the board adjourned sine die.

Yesterday afternoon most of the time after the Gazette went to press was taken up by a consideration of the tramp problem. On motion of Mr. Goodrich it was ordered that the committee on claims require of the sheriffs of Rock county vouchers and commitments to correspond with their bills. Mr. Goodrich also made a motion that a member of the board be authorized to correspond with officers of other counties and learn how they manage to rid themselves of the tramp nuisance but the motion was lost.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.
Puffery is a growing art. Most newspaper men are familiar with the clergyman who sends the manuscript of his sermon to the office after service, or with the wisecracker who prepares an abstract for the use of the press; but it remained for a world-beating New York preacher to reduce this species of puffery to a science. Not very long ago this gentleman's sermons began to occupy considerable space in the newspapers. Then there were more or less elaborate advance notices of his subjects, very much like those published concerning theatrical events. All this was brought about through the agency of a zealous and enthusiastic deacon. This good friend of the pastor saw that the latter's sermons were properly trumpeted, and proceeded to buy several hundred copies of papers containing half-column reports of the sermons. He was a jolly, well-meaning deacon. He pressed questionable cigars upon the reporters who were advertising his pastor, and did everything in his power to make things easy and pleasant for those overworked young men. The result is that the church is crowded every Sunday, the pastor's reputation is enhanced, and perhaps the kingdom of heaven is furthered.—Philadelphia Record.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The state poultry show will open in this city on Tuesday, February 7th, and will continue four days. Dr. L. A. Bishop, who is energetically at work in the interests of the city and the show, reports very favorable response from exhibitors, and promises a display of feathered beauties that will interest all. He has just received word from an extensive poultry raiser of southern Wisconsin that he will be present with an exhibition of forty coops alone.

To-day a 200-egg incubator was filled with eggs, and one feature of the exhibition will be the artificial hatching of the eggs. Another incubator for 200 eggs will be filled Thursday. As over 400 fresh eggs are now on hand, there is no danger of the supply being exhausted, and the attendants at the exhibition will be able to witness the hatching of chickens at almost any hour of the day or night.

Unusually Prevailing in Chicago.
VIENNA, Jan. 19.—The Argentinian copies this peculiar circumstance, reported by the Argentinian to the New Year's observations of the city of Moscow fully correspond with the earnest desire everywhere prevailing for the maintenance of peace. It says it can not, however, overlook the fact that notwithstanding the efforts made to this end, the feeling of anxiety and doubt regarding the future, which is now weighing upon every body, does not seem to dissipate.

THE LEAP YEAR.

Rejoice Ye who are Exalted by Charm—Leap Maidens.

"Take partners for the grand march! It was at the Army and the voice was that of the floor manager. Now floor managers are supposed to have deep bass voices that can be heard from Franklin street to Myers house corner. Consequently the floor managers last night were a departure from the usual rule, for they were bright-eyed maidens and the young man with the bass voice was commencing with himself behind the stove.

The occasion was the Leap Year party of the Young Ladies Quadrangle club. It was a leap year party in every respect. The gentleman sat hopelessly waiting for their fair escorts to ask them to dance or to promenade, and at the supper table no more careful attention could possibly have been paid. It looked rather odd to see young men tenderly assisted upstairs by their young lady escorts, but they appeared to enjoy it, and only mourned when it came their turn to play "wall flower."

And the girls seemed to have as much fun as the boys. With refreshing solitude they unloaded on their respective charges the installments of "tidy" that had fallen to their lot in times past, and seemed to take great delight in thus turning the tables.

THE NATIONAL ECLECTIC MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.
In issuing the call for the eighteenth annual meeting of the National Eclectic Medical Association, which will be held in Detroit, Mich., June 20-22d, 1888, Dr. William H. Durham, of Atlanta, Georgia, who succeeded to the presidency by the death of Dr. S. S. Judd, of this city, says:

FELLOWS: At our last annual meeting, this association made choice of Dr. Samuel S. Judd, for president. He had been conspicuously active in the championship of our cause; he was a useful and practical doctor; he was efficient in every department of business in which he was engaged; and his election in June, 1887, was unanimously regarded as a deserved tribute to one of our ablest representative physicians.

Two months later the news of his death was flashed to us over the wires, and announced by the leading public journals. We together lament his disease; we have lost incessantly by the sorrowful event. We have the obligation left to us of carrying on the work of his valuable services justly, and to perform our several duties under the inspiration of his untiring zeal and worthy example. This is the noblest tribute which we can offer him.

The work to which we had called him, and which he would have been certain to do faithfully and acceptably, it now devolves upon another to undertake. The undersigned accordingly begins his duties, not without hesitation and diligence, and with warmest wishes for the sympathy and ready assistance of you and him by your active cooperation.
